DNV certifies Resinlab to ISO 9001:2000 Quality Standard

April 09, 2008

Resinlab, a, Ellsworth Adhesives company, is pleased to announce that Det Norske Veritas (DNV) has listed the company on their website as conforming to ISO 9001:2000 for "The Design, Development, and Manufacture of Encapsulants, Adhesives, and other Specialty Polymers used in Electronics and other Industrial Applications."

Mark Gazo, Quality Manager for Resinlab, stated that "This certification was made possible by the strong commitment every employee of Resinlab made to the project. Everyone gave their full participation and was always ready and willing to perform the extra tasks and favors needed to bring this effort to a strong and successful conclusion. I greatly appreciate everyone's diligence in their work and patience with my questions. Our DNV auditor said he was very impressed by the in depth knowledge everyone demonstrated about their jobs and the solid understanding of their role in providing quality products to our customers."

The certification to the ISO standard puts Resinlab in a very competitive position for both domestic and international business growth. The practice and discipline of ISO 9001 will instill greater consumer confidence in our products and drive continual improvement of company products and manufacturing processes.
